DANIELSON

William Hardman, 40, was shot, but not seriously injured, by Oliver A. Downs, at the latter's farm in the town of Brooklyn, early Saturday evening. Mr. Downs said Sunday afternoon that the man had come into the yard and invited him to fight and that upon Hardman's refusal to go away and mind his own affairs and upon his continuing to advance toward Mr. Downs' home and maintaining a threatening attitude he finally let go a charge of bird shot from a gun he was carrying for protection against the intruder. Mr. Downs did not shoot to kill, merely to disable, and a few of the light shot lodged in Hardman's legs, on the inside near the knees, and felled him. Hardman remained where he fell until Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer, who had been summoned by telephone, came and took him into custody and looked him up at the jail.

Hardman was given attention by a physician and several of the shot were picked out of his legs. Sunday afternoon he was well enough so that he could walk about a bit, but his progress was painful. It is expected that he will be entirely well in a few days.

Hardman, it developed, was the victim not only of his own belligerency but as well of circumstances about which he knew nothing. About two weeks ago a man named Malhot, who lives at what is known as the creamery place, assisted

Mr. Downs and beat him up considerably. When Hardman appeared out of the darkness at the Downs place Saturday evening and inquired the way to Waukegan, which information was cordially given him, Mr. Downs believed the man to be Malhot. When Hardman persisted in remaining about the place and invited Mr. Downs to fight and approached as though to attack Mr. Downs gave him a final warning to halt and remain away from the house. Hardman did not halt, so Mr. Downs shot him.

Chairman Henry P. Deane of the drive of the American committee for relief in Ireland and his team captain and the workers were delighted Sunday over the results of their three days of canvassing. With reports missing from some of the teams the money turned in at Saturday night's meeting at the banking rooms of the Danielson Trust company was in excess of $400.

While the canvassing that remains to be done Chairman Deane now expresses himself as certain that the drive is going to be one of the most successful of the kind that has been made here, and he feels confident that the fund will be in the vicinity of $1,000.

Liberal gifts have come from many, and unexpected quarters and the attitude of the public as a whole has been surprisingly generous. The workers are now inspired to complete their canvass with a view to making the total at least $1,000.

Dayville, where the canvass is going strong, was not represented in the excess of $400 turned in Saturday night, so when the fund from that place is added to the total already given out, the fund will get a big boost.

Hereafter is presented a partial list of givers to the fund. All nationalities and creeds are represented, evidence of the sympathy that the Danielson public all expresses for suffering humanity, wherever in the world sorrow reigns:

PUTNAM
Captain Bulger arrested Aldore Benoit and Victor Lapointe Friday afternoon, charging them with breaking and entering and stealing. Both have confessed to being implicated in the robbery at Sam Benoit's store on Fenwick street Thursday evening, between eleven and twelve o'clock.

Saturday morning they appeared in city court where Benoit's plea was guilty and Lapointe's not guilty.

Benoit was sent down to Brooklyn jail in default of bonds of $500 until the May term of the superior court. This was the first complaint of any kind against Lapointe, so Judge Gesler continued the case for six months, putting the boy, who is sixteen, in charge of the probation officer, Peter Gardner.

Because of a visit of officials of the New Haven road to this city some days ago, it has been decided that there was one too many clerks at the freight office and that one of them will lose his job. This is in line with what the New Haven system but on all railroads of the country.

Mrs. Calvin Armstrong and two daughters are visiting in Concord, Mass.

Funeral services for John P. Fennier, deceased in the Putnam of the Putnam Woolen company were held Saturday afternoon from his home on High street. Putnam lodge of Elks escorted the body to the grave in Grove street cemetery.

Saturday afternoon the chemical truck responded to an alarm for a chimney fire on Woodstock avenue. The blaze was quickly extinguished, and no damage done.

The April meeting of the common council of the city of Putnam will be held in the council chamber Tuesday evening.
